

OFFICE MARKET OVERVIEW

ERIC SOLEM, Managing Principal, President

Boston's office market continues to experience weakening demand, with negative net absorption in the three quarters of 2023. Office vacancy rates have risen to a 10-year high at 11.2%, driven by new supply and expected space give-backs. Leasing activity has declined, and available sublease space has reached a record high of 13 million square feet, accounting for 3.5% of inventory. Despite these challenges, Boston's life science, education, and medical office users remain strong. Rising interest rates and tighter underwriting standards have hindered investment, with only $1.3 billion in assets traded this year. Rent growth is stagnant, and the construction pipeline remains active, primarily driven by life sciences and lab sector development.
